HOW DOES FINANCIAL AID WORK?

- Need-based institutional grants
 - If you are unable to afford Circadium's tuition, you will have the opportunity to fill out a Financial Aid Application after you are accepted to the school (April 15, 2022)
 - All students who apply for financial aid are offered an institutional grant. The amount of the grant will vary (see next point)
 - Your financial need is evaluated in comparison to the rest of the applicants, and institutional grants are awarded proportionally, based on available funding. (April 30, 2022)
 - You have time to consider your financial aid offer before confirming your enrollment at Circadium (May 15, 2022)
 - You must apply each year for financial aid.
- Work-Study: All Financial Aid applicants are offered positions doing Work-Study. Work-Study students commit to 3 hours / week, for a total of 85 hours during the year, for a $1000.00 tuition reduction. Duties may include cleaning, grounds maintenance, construction, and front desk assistance.
